

Curious about the Craft of Writing?

Your Own Spin

It's been said that there are no new stories to be told anymore, just new ways of telling them. We'll look at three published works that all cover similar ground, and see how the writers nevertheless make each story uniquely their own.

This program is for anyone who enjoys reading and wants to learn more about writing.

No prior experience is necessary.

You will not be required to write or share your own work, but you will have the option to do so in a warm supportive atmosphere at the end of the meeting.

Gale Free Library
Holden, MA

Tuesday, July 18, 2017

10:30AM - 12:00PM

This class is free, but space is limited.

Please call 508-210-5569 to register.

This class will be led by Holden writer and teacher Jennifer Freed, whose work appears in various journals including Atlanta Review, The Christian Science Monitor, The Worcester Review, and Off the Coast, and in a chapbook, These Hands Still Holding, which was selected as a finalist in the 2013 New Women's Voices Competition.

